4.20.280 Permit Required

A. No person, firm, association or corporation in the city of Council Bluffs shall have in their possession or control, or keep or harbor any farm animals, as defined in CBMC 4.20.020, without having first obtained a permit to do so from the administrative authority, which permit shall be issued only after payment of the required fee and after inspection of the premises by the administrative authority for compliance with CBMC 15, "Zoning," and the sanitation requirements of this chapter or any other applicable state or local law. A permit for the keeping of farm animals shall be in effect for three yearsr from the date of its issuance. Application for such permits shall be made upon forms furnished by the city.

B. Upon expiration, such permit may be renewed by any person, firm, association or corporation to whom it has been issued, by filing an application for a renewal thereof with the administrative authority upon forms to be provided by the city. Approval of the application for renewal of a permit shall be made and the permit issued for the succeeding annual period only after payment of the required fee and after inspection of the premises for compliance with CBMC 15, "Zoning," and the sanitation requirements of this chapter or any other applicable state or local law. Every permit so renewed shall be for a period of three years from and after the date of the renewal, and shall be subject to revocation in the same manner as the original permit.

C. Dangerous animals, per se, as defined in 4.20.020, roosters, peafowl, and guinea fowl are not permitted.

DExceptions:

1. In areas where farm animals are kept on property that exceeds five acres in total area, no permits for keeping farm animals shall be required. In addition, no person, firm, association, or corporation keeping or harboring farm animals in such areas shall allow the animals to be closer than one hundred (100) feet from any dwelling other than the dwelling of the owner of such animals.

2. Persons keeping canaries, doves, pigeons, parrots, parakeets, gerbils, hamsters, goldfish, tropical fish, or other similar small animals, caged, or otherwise confined as household pets within a residence, shall be exempt from the permit requirements of this section.

3. Small farm animals, such as chicks, kept within a residence prior to maturity.

4.20.285 Consent of Property Owner

A. The property owner must consent to the farm animal permit application. If the property upon which farm type animals are to be kept is a commercial, industrial, or rental residential property, consent of the real property owner of record is required.

B. Consent of adjacent property owners is required for initial applications. Proof of applicant's notification to adjacent property owners is required for renewals. Properties separated by rights-of-way are not considered adjacent. Exception: when the residence of an adjacent property is more than one hundred fifty (150) feet from the farm animal enclosure, consent and notification are not required.

C. Inspection of the property by Animal Control shall occur upon the submission of the initial application and any subsequent renewals, and may reoccur upon reasonable suspicion of the Animal Control Officer that violations of this code exist on the property.

D. When an applicant cannot obtain a signature indicating proof of notification during the renewal process, the applicant may seek administrative approval by the Chief Animal Control Officer. The Chief Animal Control Officer's decision may be appealed to the board of review as set out in CBMC 4.20.132.

4.20.290 Permit Fee

The fee for the initial issuance and any renewal of a permit for the keeping of farm animals shall be as provided in the city's prevailing schedule of fees as adopted by the city council. The fee shall not be refundable if the permit is denied or revoked, or if the farm animals are removed or die.

4.20.310 Appeal Of Revocation

a. Any person, firm, association, or corporation whose permit for the keeping of farm animals has been revoked pursuant to the provisions of CBMC 4.20.030 may appeal such revocation as set forth in CBMC 4.20.132.

b. If the board of review affirms the revocation of a permit for the keeping of farm animals, the board shall also order in its written decision that the person, firm, association or corporation owning, sheltering, harboring, or keeping such farm animals remove them from the city, or to other premises covered by a proper permit hereunder. If such farm animals are diseased, ill, or injured, the board may order their destruction in the interests of humane treatment. The decision and order shall immediately be served upon the person or entity against whom rendered in the same manner as a notice of revocation. If the order is not complied with within seven days of its issuance, the administrative authority is authorized to seize and impound such farm animal or animals. An animal so seized shall be impounded for a period of seven days. If at the end of the impoundment period, the individual or entity against whom the decision and order of the board of review was issued has not petitioned the Pottawattamie County district court for review of the order, the administrative authority shall cause the animal to be disposed of by sale or destroyed in a humane manner. Failure to comply with an order of the board of public health issued pursuant hereto shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be subject to the penalty provisions of CBMC 8.02.020.

c. Every order of the board of review issued pursuant to the provisions of this section shall set forth the language of paragraph B of this section.

d. All costs incurred by the city in impounding animals pursuant to this section, shall be paid by the owner of such animals, regardless whether such animals are returned or destroyed.

e. No permit for keeping farm type animals will be issued to an individual or address to which a farm permit has been revoked until a period of two years has elapsed from the date of revocation.

Exception: if the household that received the revocation of farm animal permit no longer resides at the address, a farm animal permit may be pursued.
